PAMA ADVISORY BOARD

Sharifa Riley is an Arts and Heritage specialist who has been working in the art gallery and museum field for the last six years in a variety of positions. Beginning her career in developing educational programming for youth, children and family, Sharifa Riley has expanded her experience in the field by taking on Curatorial projects and Collections Management initiatives. Her current exhibition, A Woman's Work is Never Done, 125 Years of Serving their Communities, is currently exhibited at the Erland Lee (Museum) Home.

Sharifa Riley's passion for art and history has allowed her to broaden the minds of all those she comes in contact with. She is determined and creative, and is looking forward to many years of helping people discover what their community has to offer.

Sharifa is a graduate from the University of Ottawa (B.A.) and Sir Sandford Fleming College (Post Graduate).
