Snow Painting

Bring colours and creativity outdoors by creating your own snow paint to use in outdoor artistic creations.

Materials:

- Spray Bottles
- Water
- Food Colouring or Liquid Watercolours

Step One:

Get inspired by the geometric shapes and colours of the Mayfield student's paintings in PAMA's online exhibition Home: Expressions in Abstraction.

A. Sattaur, underlying uncertainties, 2020, acrylic on canvas.

Step Two:

Fill your spray bottles with water.

Step Three:

Add a few drops of food colouring in each bottle to achieve your desired colours. The more dye you add, the more vibrant your colours will be.

Step Four:

Get bundled up and get outside!

To use your Snow Paint, hold the nozzle of the bottle a few inches from the snow and spray.

Depending on the bottle you have, you can adjust the nozzle to create a finer mist or a more concentrated spray.

Step Five:

Get creative! You can draw pictures, cover the snow with colour or write holiday messages for your neighbours.

To invite birds and nature, you could even add cut slices of apple, birdseed or carrots to your creations for animals to come and enjoy.
