LEADERSHIP MESSAGE

Manager and Board Chair Statement

Art Galleries, museums and archives infuse our communities with vitality. They inspire, nurture creativity and contribute to quality of life and economic development. This annual report covers both the years 2019 and 2020. In 2019, the Peel Art Gallery, Museum and Archives worked with community partners, organizations and volunteers to meet our goal of contributing to a cohesive community.

2019 accomplishments include increased access to culture and heritage through community engagement, reaching new audiences, co-created exhibitions and improved services. PAMA was thrilled to receive a Museums Assistance Program grant from the Government of Canada to create the bilingual exhibition and publication, George Paginton, Painting a Nation. We were extremely honoured to receive the Community Partner of the Year Award in 2019 from Big Brother Big Sisters of Peel for the partnership on the Our Voices exhibition.

2020 has been a year like no other. PAMA, as part of the Region, followed COVID-19 pandemic protocols and closed its facilities to the public in March 2020 to support community safety. Our exhibitions, programs, member engagement and fundraising activities moved to virtual and digital platforms. The PAMA team learned, along with other businesses and organizations in the Region, how to continue to provide interesting and engaging content during an exceptional time.

Looking ahead, PAMA staff and volunteers will be working towards responding to issues of community health, racism, attracting new audiences, seeking community input in planning, enhancing programs, strengthening partnerships and continuing our stewardship of Peel's cultural heritage.

We would not be able to accomplish our goals without the support of our donors, members, volunteers, stakeholders and community partners. You are part of a vital group of individuals who contribute time, finances, connections and passion to making Peel Art Gallery, Museum and Archives a success.

Thank you for your dedication in making PAMA an integral part of the community and a vibrant organization that celebrates culture and heritage.

Sonia Sidhu, Brampton South MP, visited PAMA in October to announce, on behalf of the Honourable Steven Guilbeault, Minister of Canadian Heritage, that PAMA had been awarded a grant through the COVID-19 Emergency Support Fund. The grant will ensure that PAMA can continue to preserve the heritage of Peel. Michelle Gewurtz, Supervisor, Arts and Culture, and Rene Nand, PAMA Manager, gave MP Sidhu a tour of the Welcome to Peel exhibit during her visit.

CULTURE AND HERITAGE MATTER

The Peel Art Gallery, Museum and Archives (PAMA) exists to share the stories of Peel by providing diverse opportunities for creative exploration and discussion to help build cohesive communities. 'Nothing About Us, Without Us' – our guiding principle ensures direct participation of communities represented in our programming and exhibitions.

John Cutruzzola helping a budding young artist at the Live Art Competition booth.

Community Engagement

PAMA strives to be approachable and inspiring to our community. We create and expand our programs to ensure we reflect the interests and passions of the community.

Stewardship

PAMA's collections of art, historical objects and archival records tell stories that provide our community with a sense of place, belonging, pride and an understanding of the legacy of the people and events that have shaped Peel.

PAMA's Curator of Art, Sharona Adamowicz-Clements introducing the Simon Hughes video series.

Staying Connected in 2020

Our members and donors are essential to PAMA. You support us financially, attend programs and events and, most importantly, you are PAMA ambassadors in the community. Maintaining our relationship during shut down was top of mind. PAMA created exclusive opportunities to share art, go behind the scenes with our curators and participate in projects like the COVID-19 Time Capsule.

Visitor Experience

Collections and exhibitions will always be at the core of PAMA. Visitor experiences are a priority that offer PAMA the opportunity to interact with and hear from visitors to build lasting relationships.

2019–2020 EXHIBITIONS

Art Exhibitions

In 2019, the Art Gallery team created diverse exhibitions highlighting PAMA's art collection. Ron Bloore: Black and White focused on the abstract work of a member of the famous Regina Five. Selections from the Vault showcased our outstanding permanent collection of art. The clothing designs of an Australian-based entrepreneur who reframes ideas about South-Asian female beauty were on display in Karen Kaur: The Style of Life.

Zinnia Naqvi: Yours to Discover was the first project displayed on the outside of our building. This exhibit was part of the Scotiabank CONTACT Photography Festival. For a Social Cause presented graphic novels by Lawrence Hyde, Michael Nicoll Yahgulanaas and local author Ricky Lima. George Paginton: Painting a Nation included an exhibition, book and online catalogue raisonné. This bilingual project, funded by a grant from the Department of Canadian Heritage, Museums Assistance Program, will be travelling across the country to other institutions.

When the pandemic hit in March 2020, the art gallery pivoted to offer a variety of social media videos and virtual tour presentations aimed at lightening the spirits of our community. The videos included a series of on-the-spot features showcasing works from exhibiting artist Simon Hughes and artists who were originally part of the Sikh Heritage Month spotlight in April. PAMA's Curator of Art, Sharona Adamowicz-Clements, also created a series called From the Curator's Couch which she created from her home, referencing interesting topics and items from the PAMA collection. When staff returned to PAMA physically to check on the collection, behind-the-scenes segments were filmed inside the art gallery vault featuring interesting items such as Inuit Dolls, Tom Thomson's Sketch Book, and George Reid's newly restored Landscape with Grazing Cattle.

History Exhibitions

2019 was a dynamic year for exhibitions and building community engagement with partners across the Region of Peel. Highlights include the moving portraits featured in North is Freedom, with guest curator Yuri Dojc, introduced during Black History Month; inspiring art work by young immigrants and Black youth in Our Voices describing the challenges they face every day, created in partnership with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Peel; and Trash Talk, a new partnership with the Waste Management Division at the Region of Peel that tackled big issues about residential waste and the difference we can make to help the environment. PAMA was also the first stop for Refuge Canada, a spectacular touring exhibit shared by the Canadian Museum of Immigration at Pier 21.

Crowdsourcing

The Peel Time Capsule 2020 project began in Spring 2020 with a virtual and on-site exhibition to take place in 2021.

2020 was a surprisingly short year for in-house Museum exhibitions at PAMA. In February, we opened Our Voices, Our Journeys: Black Communities in Peel, but due to the pandemic closure, we were not able to celebrate this wonderful community partnership in person. The exhibit will continue into 2021, so everyone will have the opportunity to experience the stories of resilience and purpose shared by Black residents of Caledon.

We were very proud to start the year with a visit from The Honourable Steven Guilbeault, Minister of Canadian Heritage, who toured PAMA's exhibitions.

PAMA embarked on a new way to present exhibitions through our Virtual Exhibitions online portal. We started with Morphology, showing images by local photographers who documented the creation of the Jim Tovey Lakeview Conservation area in Mississauga. We also captured some behind-the-scenes videos taking you through some of our exhibit spaces as well as celebrating Museum, Pride and Indigenous Heritage Months virtually. Many more online exhibitions are scheduled, so keep watching for more!

ARCHIVES PROGRAM

The Archives plays a unique role in Peel region, being the official repository for the archival records of the Regional Municipality of Peel as well as the municipalities of Brampton, Caledon and Mississauga. The Archives also acquires and conserves records of individuals, families and organizations.

The Archives' role as a government archives has expanded significantly in recent years requiring new methods to ensure large volumes of records are processed efficiently. Government records provide reliable evidence of, and information about, why and when events occur.

In 2019, our collection's conservation projects focused on stabilizing 13,000 negatives in the Russell Cooper fonds. Cooper was a Peel photojournalist in the 1950s and 60s. Most of his original film negatives are now digitized and stored in acid free materials ensuring they are available to the public for generations to come.

Reference services for the public are a core function of the Archives. We maintain a public reading room to support the work of municipal staff, historians, planners, genealogists and researchers.

Just like the rest of PAMA, COVID-19 forced the Archives to find new ways of doing business under difficult and disruptive circumstances. Normal operations of the Archives were suspended in early March when PAMA closed to the public and the Archives team started working remotely. Later staffing levels were reduced due to staff redeployments within the Region of Peel. General reference services and other critical aspects of the archival program had to be scaled back.

Stewardship and care of the collection have continued without interruption. The Archives is mandated to provide certain essential services associated with the Municipal Act and privacy legislation. As a result, some core operations were maintained but at reduced service levels and many projects focusing on collections development were put on hold.

Staff levels in the Archives returned to normal at the beginning of September 2020 and the PAMA team are looking forward to welcoming researchers again.

COLLECTIONS HIGHLIGHTS

Art

The generosity of individuals who have donated artworks or funds is at the core of PAMA's art collection. This legacy has resulted in the creation of an outstanding cultural treasure. In 2019, PAMA received 61 artworks donated by one artist and five collectors. Covering a range of periods, styles and techniques in twentieth-century Canadian art, these donations broaden our ability to study, exhibit and share stories from Canada's rich history of visual art.

Following the successful PAMA-organized exhibition George Paginton: Painting a Nation, the Art Gallery added 25 oil paintings by Paginton to its permanent collection. The selection of works reflects his most favorite subject matter, the Canadian landscape and quaint rural towns.

COLLECTIONS HIGHLIGHTS

Artifacts

2019 to 2020 was a period of renewal and reflection for the Museum Collection staff. Our goals were to update the collections inventory, move offsite artifacts to a better storage space, help develop an online collections database, and ensure 'best professional standards' for every aspect of our work. Our intention is to help PAMA preserve heritage treasures and create new opportunities for building the collection.

PAMA was closed to visitors early in 2020, and this provided an opportunity for some extensive behind-the-scenes work on our Museum collection. Staff have been reviewing and updating the collections inventory and developing an online collections database to share some of our artifacts with a world-wide audience.

A generous donation from the Peel Pride Committee renewed PAMA's focus on collecting the stories of the diverse communities that make up the Region of Peel.

We have been actively collecting personal stories during this unique time in history, to create the Peel Time Capsule 2020 in partnership with the Museums of Mississauga. These stories of resilience, hope, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic will be shared in an upcoming online exhibition.

This addition to PAMA's collections helps to tell the stories of Peel's 2SLGBTQ+ communities and allows us to reflect on the people and moments that have contributed to this historical record. Your stories matter, and we are grateful to be entrusted with the care of these objects.

LEARNING AT PAMA

2019 was an invigorating year at PAMA with the delivery of over 70 public programs and 450 school programs. Over 17,000 participants engaged in school, outreach and public programs. A wide variety of programming was offered, and partnership opportunities allowed for a diverse breadth of activities at PAMA and in the community.

To support learners from home during the 2020 closures, educational resources were developed to complement online exhibitions and creative themes. Among these resources, an Outdoor Scavenger Hunt was one of the most popular as it encouraged ways to learn outdoors while meeting curriculum requirements.

School Programs

Using elements of the STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math) approach, a rich variety of curriculum-based school programs were offered to students. In 2019, over 8,700 students visited PAMA and an additional 1,600 took part in outreach at their schools, with another 490 attendees at PAMA in 2020 from January to March.

One of the most popular school programs for the 2019-2020 year was Trash Talk: Waste Education Tour, sponsored by the Region of Peel's Waste Management Division. This program was produced in partnership with the Peel Environmental Education team, giving students the chance to explore the importance of waste management practices and reduction through a tour of PAMA's Trash Talk exhibition and Brampton's Community Recycling Centre.

Lesson resource kits linking PAMA archival resources to the Ontario curriculum were published online. These kits were designed to be used by teachers to enhance their classes and also further PAMA's reach to students.

Creative Expressions workshops encourage participants to create art in a fun and supportive environment.

Community Outreach

In 2019, PAMA supported community events throughout the Region such as the Peel Water Festival, the Bread and Honey Festival, Caledon Day, and Pride in the Square engaging with approximately 2,600 members of the community. Seniors outreach brought Museum Memories and Young at Heart to 1,300 seniors in long-term care or retirement facilities giving participants the opportunity to join in a collaborative experience, share their stories and promote lifelong learning.

Many first-time visitors were among the over 1,300 attendees who explored PAMA on Family Day 2020 and engaged with exhibitions like Trash Talk, George Paginton, Jagdeep Raina's Chase and explored creative ways of reusing items and reducing waste with hands-on art activities and a Junkestra performance by local musician Mark Sepic.

To provide engagement opportunities for families during PAMA's closure, daily Family Fun activities were posted online for families to explore, connect and create with easily available materials. During the period of the pandemic, partnerships continued and were more important than ever! There were new and continued partnerships with META Digital Arts Music and Media Festival, Vibrant Brampton, Visual Arts of South Asia-Arts Festival (V.A.S.A) and the Regional Diversity Roundtable to name a few. Our adult audience was given behind-the-scenes opportunities to explore all that PAMA has to offer with special curator talks and vault tours.

LEARNING AT PAMA

Adult participants enjoy music, food and hands-on studio experience at PAMA Thursdays.

Community Programs

Working with local and community partners, a variety of programs continued through 2019 into 2020 with great success. These programs include, but are not limited to, PAMA Music with Brampton Folk Club, Connections Art & Book Club with Brampton Public Library and Drumming Circles with the Indigenous Network. 2019 saw the launch of Safer Space Studio offered in partnership with 2SLGBTQ+ Collaborative of Peel and Rainbow Salad and designed to support the self-expression and growth of members of the 2SLGBTQ+ communities. A special community program, a Repair Café, was offered to complement Trash Talk in partnership with Sheridan College Mission Zero, where visitors were encouraged to bring broken items for a team of volunteers to fix and repurpose as opposed to disposing of them.

In 2019 and 2020, PAMA continued to offer free Creative Expressions art workshops to children and adults with developmental and physical challenges. These relaxed workshops are designed to help foster creativity and personal self-expression through a variety of artistic media. Participants are encouraged to create art in a fun and supportive environment, which in turn provides an experience that delivers results in a creative, meaningful and memorable way. PAMA was able to offer the program barrier-free as a result of funding received from the Pendle Fund at the Community Foundation of Mississauga, the Brampton and Caledon Community Foundation and a generous donation from Dynacare.

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS

Partnerships

Working with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Peel, PAMA supported the artistic expression of 140 students who created their own artworks to share their stories. Completed works focusing on topics such as self, belonging, home and self-identity were displayed at PAMA in the Our Voices exhibition. As a result of this collaboration, PAMA was awarded the Big Brothers Big Sisters Partnership of the Year Award.

In 2020, PAMA launched the virtual exhibition Art Voice; Expressions of Youth in Peel. Over 70 youth artists participated in this co-curated project undertaken by Community Leadership Program ambassadors under the mentorship of the host organization the Regional Diversity Roundtable and PAMA.

Exhibition sponsors help bring awareness of art and culture to the community. Our thanks to the following sponsors who provided the community with the opportunity to enjoy our 2019 exhibitions.

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS

Home: Expressions in Abstraction virtual exhibition of art by Mayfield Secondary School Grade 11 students.

Local Schools

Each year the talented students in Mayfield Secondary School's Visual Arts Department display their art within the community. In 2019, PAMA partnered with the Grade 11 students in the Regional Arts Program, which culminated in a virtual exhibition Home: Expressions in Abstraction. Students were challenged with the task of interpreting the theme "home" in an abstract painting.

PAMA Members and Donors

Support from our members means a lot and we have appreciated receiving notes and well-wishes from them during the pandemic closure. We have continued to send out PAMA eNews and introduced the new Art@Home, a members-only peek behind the scenes at the personal art collections of PAMA staff. All memberships have been extended into the new year and we look forward to welcoming everyone back to PAMA in 2021.

PAMA Volunteers

The Friends of PAMA Advisory Board continue to volunteer their time and effort to support PAMA initiatives. They continue to meet virtually, on a monthly basis. The Archives, Museum and Art Gallery are looking forward to welcoming back volunteers when our doors are open again. Volunteers provide an invaluable service by providing their time and talents to assist PAMA in sharing the stories of Peel Region with our community and beyond.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS AND CO-CREATORS

Thanks to our community partners and co-creators

PAMA works with groups, organizations and individuals to plan exhibitions, education and public programs and connect to the community. In 2019–2020, we were thankful to our partners and co-creators for their continued support.

PAMA MILESTONES

New Beginnings

Marty Brent with Region of Peel CAO (retired) and passionate PAMA supporter David Szwarc.

Marty Brent, Manager (retired), joined PAMA in 2011 during massive construction and expansion projects. She skillfully guided a new beginning for this unique institution. Marty championed community building and visitor engagement. We are grateful for her exceptional stewardship, professionalism, vision and community outreach.

Marty was awarded the Ontario Museum Association (OMA) Distinguished Career Award of Excellence this year. This award is presented to individuals who, over an extended period of time, have created a lasting and meaningful legacy in the Ontario museum community.

PAMA Remembers

Gisela Sommer

PAMA and the Halton Hills community lost long-time arts supporter, Gisela Sommer, in February 2020. A resident of Georgetown for over six decades, Gisela and her late husband John operated Gallery House Sol for nearly 40 years. Since 1997, Gisela and John donated hundreds of works from their personal art collection enriching the PAMA collection.

Audrey Gilchrist

After many years as a library technician at Brentwood Library and the Ontario Ministry of Housing Library, Audrey spent her retirement assisting and encouraging her son, J. Brian Gilchrist in his career as a genealogy researcher and speaker. Audrey generously donated the extensive papers of her son Brian, former archivist at PAMA and professional genealogist. She worked closely with Archives staff on this multi-year process offering personal insights into Brian's career and interests.

PAMA STAFF AND SUPPORTERS

The Friends of PAMA provide input, advocacy in the community, seek funding opportunities, volunteer and assist with PAMA public events.

- Raise funds for exhibitions, public education and outreach initiatives for the community
- Build strong and effective links between PAMA and the community
- Advise on operational policies and maintain a charity in good standing following the best practices of the Canada Revenue Agency
